To whom it may concern:

James D. Flores, professionally known as Jimmy Dee, is a tribute to his generation. Backed by his college degree in business administration and his musical talent, Jimmy has launched into an exciting career which has earned him recognition throughout the Orient and the U.S.A. Presently, Jimmy enjoys the status of being "Guam's Own Recording Star." Also employed by the Guam Visitors Bureau, he has used his professionalism to promote Guam's culture and natural beauty to potential tourists. It would be in the island's best interest to produce more sons comparable to Jimmy.

Since I have known Jimmy, he has devoted many hours to make benefit performances for civic or charitable causes. His popularity with both young and old audiences has resulted in many successful fund raising events.

Whatever endeavor Jimmy desires to pursue, I am confident that he will meet the challenge head-on and deal with it accordingly, hopefully, to ultimate success.
